Polity & Governance · GS - II

Examine how constitutional morality, transparency and equal opportunity can strengthen democratic governance and promote inclusive national development in India.

EXAM YEAR	PAPER	SUBJECT
DAILY PRACTICE 20/10/2026	GS - II	Polity & Governance

MARKS	WORD LIMIT
10	~150 words

Answer Hint

Constitutional morality, corruption, accountability, Article 14, Article 16, transparency, merit-based recruitment, electoral reforms, inclusive development, rule of law.

Model Answer

Introduction

National development depends not only on economic growth but also on accountable institutions, equal opportunities and public trust. Political debates concerning corruption, family-based political influence and preferential treatment raise broader questions about democratic governance.

Key Dimensions

1. Combating corruption

Corruption diverts public resources, weakens service delivery and reduces citizens' confidence in government. Effective implementation of anti-corruption laws, transparent procurement and independent oversight can strengthen accountability.

2. Promoting equal opportunity

Articles 14 and 16 establish constitutional guarantees of equality and equality of opportunity in public employment. Fair recruitment, accessible education and effective welfare delivery help expand participation in development.

3. Strengthening democratic institutions

Political parties and public institutions benefit from transparent decision-making, internal accountability and fair competition. However, political participation and candidacy must be assessed through constitutional and legal principles rather than assumptions about family background alone.

4. Building social cohesion

Inclusive policies, impartial administration and respect for diversity can reduce social divisions and strengthen collective responsibility.

Way Forward

Strengthen institutional independence, protect whistle-blowers, improve grievance redressal and promote evidence-based policymaking.

Conclusion

Constitutional morality, accountability and equal opportunity provide a durable foundation for national unity and development. Their effective implementation requires impartial institutions and equal respect for the rights of all citizens.

BECOME IAS
AI POWERED UPSC PREP